

Points of interest

1. The Lighthouse Young People's Centre
2. The Bartons Arms Public House
3. Aston University

About the route

The A34 blue-surfaced cycle route provides approximately three kilometres of almost entirely 2-way segregated route linking the city centre with Birchfield (Heathfield Road).

From outside Birmingham Children's Hospital, the route goes through Lancaster Circus underpass, and then heads north out of the city along the A34.

Look out for these landmarks along the route, and there are also other local places of interest within easy reach:

The Lighthouse Young People's Centre
The building provides sports activities, multimedia training and health & wellbeing projects for young people aged 13-19.

The Bartons Arms public house has been serving customers for over 100 years, including Laurel & Hardy when they performed in the city! The design of the building is said to have been inspired by Aston Hall, and the inside is just as impressive with original Minton-Hollins tiles on the walls.

Aston University – received its royal charter from Queen Elizabeth II in 1966, after starting life as Birmingham Technical College in 1895.

The Lighthouse Young People's Centre

The Bartons Arms Public House

Aston University

Map Key

On-Road cycling

- Signed cycle route
- Cycle lane (on road)
- Bus lane (Cyclists can use bus lanes)
- Toucan crossing / Pedestrian Crossing
- Steep hill (arrow pointing downhill)
- One-way street on cycle route

Off-Road (traffic-free) cycling / walking routes

- Surfaced Routes
 - Surfaced cycle route
 - Surfaced walking route
- Canal towpath
 - Canal towpath cycle route
 - Canal towpath walking route
- Segregated cycle route
- Proposed segregated cycle route
- Cycle signal

National Cycle Network

- National Route

Other information

- Canal access ramp / steps / wheeling ramp
- Birmingham Greenway
- 2km walking route / 5km walking route
- Cycle parking locations
- Bike shops
- Refreshments (Within Country Parks only)
- Railway with station / Metro (tramline) with halt
- Big Birmingham Bike Centre
- Cycle parking Hubs

City Centre map additions

- Cycling allowed in pedestrianised areas
- Pedestrian only area (cyclists dismount)
- Tram line section no cycling
- Brompton Docks

Scale:

